During many observations of the novelty shop, 225 Sullivan St., NYC, SA JEROME N. BOWERS observed the woman behind the counter (MARY) discard slips of paper into a trash container which was located behind the counter.

It should be noted that on 11/18/70, an individual who is probably the superintendent for 225 Sullivan Street, NYC, was observed emerging from the premises at approximately 2:30 a.m. and placing trash in cardboard containers at the curb.

On 11/19/70, efforts were made to obtain these trash containers. However, due to the pedestrian traffic and other factors on that particular evening, the trash was not obtained.

On 11/24/70, SAS BOWERS and [ ] observed the superintendent at 225 Sullivan St. place the trash in three cardboard containers at the curb. At an appropriate time, the agents were able to obtain these trash containers. In order not to raise any undue suspicion, the agents had previously arranged to leave three similar trash cartons at this location. A thorough examination of the contents of these cartons failed to produce any information which would indicate gambling operations.
